

Lyndsay Goodfellow

Jewelry Designer

Lyndsay Goodfellow is the proud owner and designer of Love, Montreal Jewelry. The company first started small, selling at local craft fairs and at jewelry parties, but within a few years she expanded into boutiques in Quebec and Ontario, as well as launching an online store. Lyndsay has taken what she loves and created a blossoming career, even putting herself through University. She also takes part in many fundraising and community events and loves to give back, particularly to the SPCA of Montreal.

Love, Montreal is known for their unique handmade designs and exceptional quality. Most pieces are one of a kind and all materials are hand selected in order to ensure quality. With most pieces costing under $30, clients love the unbelievably low prices on Swarovski™ crystal, sterling silver and semi precious stone jewelry. Lyndsay even offers a custom jewelry service and makes fabulous bridal jewelry to suite all tastes.
